Metairie, Louisiana

On Friday, September 23, 2011 a letter was mailed to all Parishioners of St. Philip Neri Parish. If you do not receive your letter, please contact the Church Office (887-5535). Below please find a copy of the letter:

*“Parishioners of St. Philip Neri Church
Metairie, Louisiana*

*Dear Parishioners:
Owing to the untimely death of Father Lee Saloy earlier this year, I am the newly appointed pastor of St. Philip Neri Parish. I wish to express my utmost appreciation for the very warm welcome and many kind expressions of support you have accorded me over these past several weeks. I am uniquely blessed to be your pastor.*

I wish to inform you about an exciting undertaking in our parish. During October, with the help of volunteers, we are making plans to visit every Catholic household in our parish. Over the next few weeks, a parish representative will call you to arrange a personal visit with you and your family. Our purpose is not to impose ourselves on anyone but merely to make contact with your family, to answer questions, and provide information about our ministries, services and upcoming events.

It will also be an opportunity for us to become aware of any needs and concerns that you may have. This is not a request for money or anything of that nature. It is merely a good-will visit from our parish family to your family. Feel free to discuss anything that is of interest to you, spiritual or otherwise. Teams will visit in pairs and will have a specially printed card to show for identification purposes. If, however, you would prefer not to be visited, we will honor that request.

When representatives from our Parish contact you, please give them every courtesy. If you have concerns about any of this, call or email me at hbugler@stphilipneriparish.org.

Wishing you and your family an abundance of God's graces and blessings, I remain

*Sincerely yours,
Fr. Harry”*

SUNDAY FAMILY GATHERING – October 2, 2011

All are invited to enjoy coffee and doughnuts, immediately following the 8:00 and 9:30 AM Masses in the Parishioners' Center (MP).

October Hosted by: "Grandparents Club" Ministry.

The SPN Grandparents Club, established in 2006, is open to grandparents (and great grandparents!) of all the children of SPN school. Meetings held: 2nd Thursday of the month - 9:30 AM - Parishioners' Center. Mission: To come together to serve God by serving the needs of the school and the Church, while building a sense of fellowship and togetherness.

At our meetings, we are updated about all school and parish events. Members are asked to volunteer for activities that are provided specifically for the children: Santa's Secret Shop, Young Ladies Tea and Style Show, and bake sales or raffles. We have also hosted Trunk or Treat events at Halloween. Members also work hand in hand with the Men's Club and the Ladies Co-Op in the parish-wide activities such as the annual May Fair, Oktoberfest, Crawfish Cook-Off and Lenten Fish Fry.

We often have a local speaker at our meetings, but allow plenty of time for sharing with one another and enjoying refreshments. A special event is the Grandparents Mass, which is held for a different grade each month. We have also started to plan "field trips" for members, such as visiting the Blessed Sacrament Shrine in New Orleans, or meeting for lunch. For monthly updates, please see our page on the SPN school web site.

“Consubstantial with the Father”

Daniel Merz, SLL

“One of the more interesting changes in the revised translation of The Roman Missal occurs in the Creed, where a word that few would use conversationally occurs. In the second paragraph of the Creed, the phrase “consubstantial with the Father” will replace “one in Being with the Father.” Some may wonder why such an unfamiliar word needs to be used. On the other hand, it may just as easily be asked, whether we understand the phrase, “one in Being with the Father”? Both options attempt to put into words one of the great mysteries of our faith, that Jesus Christ is equal to the Father. The use of the term “consubstantial” has been carefully considered before being chosen. Admittedly, the term carries some complexities with it. But the Congregation for Divine Worship and the Discipline of the Sacraments recommended its use with good reason. Let’s look at the word more closely.

substance with the mere physical or external dimension. Today, we can use the word substance in reference to the essential, for example, “the substance of the matter,” but we can also use it in a rather mundane and materialistic sense, for example, “help me wash this grimy substance off my hands!” Within the liturgy, of course, the Church is thinking of the former. In the Eucharist, for example, we say that bread and wine are transsubstantiated into the Body and Blood, Soul and Divinity of Jesus Christ. The form or appearance of the bread and wine remain the same, but their inner substance, the reality underneath the appearance, is changed. This is why we don’t say the bread and wine are just transformed, but transsubstantiated.

The other part of consubstantial is the first three letters “con”—profound yet beautiful in its simplicity. It comes from the Latin preposition cum meaning “together with.” In the Creed, consubstantial means that Christ was of one substance with the Father, but it also implies one substance with our humanity. He is co-substantial, referring therein to the two natures of Christ—human and divine.

The Nicene Creed originally was composed in Greek; the Greek word used in the phrase is homoousios. This is a compound formed from two words: homo (same) and ousia (essence, being). The use of this word in the Creed was revolutionary in its day because it is not a scriptural but a philosophical term. The greatest heresy of that day, Arianism, argued the Christ was not of the same substance of the Father, but only of a similar substance (homoiousios) and, therefore, was not equal to the Father. The Church Fathers wanted to be precise in the language used for such a great mystery, and the debates at the time were long and often acrimonious. From the very beginning, the Latin Creed translated this Greek word as consubstantialem, for similar precise philosophical and theological reasons. By breaking down the word con-sub-stantial, we can understand it a little better.

The previous translation “one in Being” does not portray this multivalence. Also, most would assert that this phrase is not as precise. The English word “Being” has a broader meaning than the philosophical term “substance.” “Being” commonly refers to all that is, which would include the appearance or form of a thing, and in relation to the holy Trinity, could mistakenly include Personhood. God the Son is not the same Person as God the Father, but they do share the same inner being, or the same substance. Both phrases, “one in Being” and “consubstantial,” are accurate when properly understood. In translating the Creed, however, it is important to be as precise as possible, and the Church believes strongly that the term “consubstantial” is a better choice in naming the Great Mystery that is the relationship of Jesus Christ to God the Father and to us, his adopted sons and daughters.”

The root word “substance” (sub=under; stans=standing) is also a technical, philosophical term that refers to the most real part of a being. Literally, it refers to that which “stands under,” the base of a person or thing, that which is at the heart of someone or something. This is fine as long as we don’t equate
