“Glory to God in the Highest!”

D. Todd Williamson

“The Introductory Rites serve the wonderful purpose of gathering individual Christians as one body and one voice offering the great prayer of praise and thanksgiving that is the Eucharist. This happens throughout the Introductory Rites: the Entrance Chant joins our voices as one; the Sign of the Cross and the greeting help us to enter into the ritual of the Mass; and the Penitential Act reminds us how much we are in need of God’s great love and mercy—both as individuals and as a community of faith. Then, as the liturgy continues to form us into one body, the whole liturgical assembly raises its voice in the great hymn of praise that is the Gloria.

The Gloria, an ancient hymn dating to the early centuries of the Church, is prayed every Sunday outside of Advent and Lent, and on solemnities and feasts of the Lord. The texts of this hymn is collection of images and phrases from Scripture and Tradition. It begins with the words of the angels who sung their praise at the birth of Christ. The previous translation began “Glory to God in the highest, / and peace to his people on earth.” In the English translation of the third edition of The Roman Missal, these words are much closer to those of the angels as recorded in Luke 2:14: “Glory to God in the highest / and on earth peace to people of good will.”

From there the hymn launches into a beautifully poetic doxology that was added to the Latin very early in our history. We will sing, “We praise you, / we bless you, / we adore you, / we glorify you, / we give you thanks for your great glory.” This is a literal translation of the Latin text, Laudámus te, / benedícimus te, / adorámus te, / glorificámus te, / grátias ágimus tibi propter magnam glóriam tuam . . . and a good example of the poetic rhythm the revised English translation seeks to capture from the original Latin text. These phrases are a wonderful building of praise. So much is the praise that we seek to offer God that it cannot be contained in only one attempt—not only do we “praise” the Lord, but we also bless the Lord! Not only do we “bless,” but we also “adore” him! Not only do we adore, but we also “glorify” him . . . and so the hymn goes (emphasis added)! These phrases then lead to a crescendo of titles for God: “Lord God, heavenly King, / O God, almighty Father.”

The next stanza will also sound somewhat different than the previous translation. In our adoration of Christ, we first acclaim Christ’s identity through various titles: “Lord Jesus Christ, Only Begotten Son, / Lord God, Lamb of God, Son of the Father.” The hymn then uses a pattern of repetition found in the Latin text, as we acclaim what Christ has done for us: “you take away the sins of the world, / have mercy on us; / you take away the sins of the world, / receive our prayer; / you are seated at the right hand of the Father, / have mercy on us.” These phrases are similar to a litany, as we entreat the Lord to have mercy and to receive the prayer of praise we offer him.

The final stanza of the Gloria remains the same as the previous translation: “For you alone are the Holy One, / you alone are the Lord, / you alone are the Most High, / Jesus Christ, / with the Holy Spirit, / in the glory of God the Father. / Amen.”

Notice, in these last two stanzas, how the hymn uses multiple phrases from Scripture: In the Gospel according to John, Saint John the Baptist refers to Christ as “the Lamb of God who takes away the sin of the world” (John 1:29, NRSV); and this evangelist declares in the book of Revelation that Christ “alone [is] holy” (Revelation 15:4, NRSV); and the psalmist asserts that “you alone, / whose name is the LORD, / are the Most High over all the earth” (Psalm 83:18, NRSV). The hymn gathers all of these titles, images, and phrases to vocalize the praise and glory we offer to God!

With this, the liturgical assembly is now ready to continue its prayer of praise and thanksgiving with the Collect, or Opening Prayer; But not without first having raised, with one voice, the great song that the angels themselves sang. Using the words of Scripture and Tradition our voices are joined to those from across the ages in the first moments of the liturgy, as we call out, “Glory to God in the highest!”

Labor Day: Human Work Made New

In 1981 Pope John Paul authored an Encyclical letter entitled "On Human Work" which beautifully presented the Christian vision of the dignity and meaning of human work. We live in an age that has all but lost this Christian vision of the meaning of work. This is not a new problem. It is part of a larger social and individual malady, wrought by sin.

In the "industrial age", men and women were often reduced to mere instruments in a society that emphasized "productivity" over the dignity of the human person, the worker. The "technological age" promised more "time" for leisure and freedom but sadly has failed to deliver. To come to a new understanding of the dignity of human labor requires what St. Paul rightly called a "renewal of the mind". Pope John Paul maintained that because work "has been profaned by sin and contaminated by egoism," it is an activity that "needs to be redeemed." Jesus was a man of work and work enabled him to develop his humanity. Work needs to be rescued from the logic of profit, from the lack of solidarity, from the fever of earning ever more, from the desire to accumulate and consume.

When the focus of work becomes subjected to what he called "inhuman wealth" it becomes a "seductive and merciless idol." Christ cautions us, What does it profit a man if he gains the whole world and loses or forfeits himself? He reminds us that "life is more than food" and that work is for man, not man for work. What makes a life great is not the entity of gain, nor the type of profession, or the level of the career. Man is worth infinitely more than the goods he produces or possesses.

Home Visitation planned for October.

With the help of very many others, we are making plans to visit every Catholic Household in our parish that we are aware of, during the month of October. Some time after mid-September, a representative of our parish will call you to arrange a personal visit with you and your family. Their purpose is not to impose themselves on anyone but merely to make contact with you and your family, to answer questions, and provide information, if desired, about our Ministries, Services and Upcoming Events.

It will also be an opportunity for us to become aware of any needs and concerns that you may have. Nothing more!! This is not a request for money or anything of that nature. It is merely a good-will visit from our parish family to your family. Feel free to discuss anything that is of interest to you, spiritual or otherwise. Teams will visit in pairs and will have a specially printed card to show for identification purposes. Of course, if you would prefer not to be visited, we will honor that request.

September 14th is the Feast of the Exaltation of the Holy Cross. It is a reminder that Jesus Christ, who offers us new life through his death and resurrection, draws us to a life of conversion. Fr. Harry will be in church, with his confessional light on from 6:00—8:00 pm. I encourage you to take this opportunity to celebrate the Sacrament of Penance not only this month but on a regular basis as we have the opportunity to meet the forgiving, loving and merciful Christ.

CONGRATULATIONS!!!...On Saturday, August 20, 2011, during a Mass celebrated by Fr. Robert A. Hagan, S.J., Mrs. Helen Hausknecht and Mrs. Sally LaSalle, of St. Philip Neri parish, professed their Perpetual Profession vows to the Holy Family Institute. The Institute: Vatican approved, offers consecrated life for married and widowed, living their normal married life, in their own homes, working at their regular jobs while remaining and serving in their own parishes, but united in prayer.

The Holy Family Institute is part of the Pauline Family, dedicated to Evangelization and the spreading of the Gospel through the mass media. Just as priests, Brothers and Nuns consecrate themselves to god through their vocations, now so can married and widowed persons in their everyday living.

Lord, Teach Me To Pray, is a three-part prayer series for men and women based on Ignatian Spirituality. Part 1, "Praying Christian Virtues", helps deepen prayer life, and discover what to do for dryness and obstacles in prayer. It also introduces the different methods of Ignatian prayer, meditation, contemplation and Consciousness Examen. Small groups will meet with 2 trained facilitators for 1—2 hours once a week for 12 weeks to pray and faith share.
